

When using Google Documents, I notice that in Google Chrome my fonts varied widely and differently due to the lack of format in my CSS. As for Internet Explorer, both Index and Contact made my website squished horizontally. I believe that is due to how internet explorers format their websites. For Firefox Mozilla I believe the fonts compared to the other two browsers were more bolded and larger.